5 things you need to know if you want to buy in 2025!

Stamp Duty is a pinch not a punch

With stamp duty thresholds having changed in April, use a calculator to work out what you will be paying, it might be less than you think

You need a property strategy

Ask yourself how long you see yourself living here and what you want to do with the property.

Data doesn't lie

Don't let a competitive market force you to pay over the odds for a property.

Home ownership requires sacrifice

Think about where you can cut costs to save faster for a deposit. (N.B. Cancelling Netflix probably won't cut it.)

It still makes sense to buy

Your home is an asset that can be passed on for generations to come.

How can we help?

We offer a range of services to help first time buyers navigate the buying process. By saving you money and time, we take the stress out of home buying.
